

6th Grade Vocabulary Words

Math Vocabulary

adjacent (adj.) - lying next to each other; for angles, it means they share a corner point, but don't overlap area (n.) - the result of multiplying the length by the width of a shape dimension (n.) - a measurement of length in one direction factor (v.) - to express a number as a product of two or more other numbers frequency (n.) - how often something happens during a given period histogram (n.) - graphical display where data is grouped into ranges then plotted as bars mean (n.) - the average value of a set of numbers median (n.) - the middle number in a range of values mode (n.) - the value that occurs most frequently in a given series range (n.) - the limits to which something can reach ratio (n.) - the quotient of one quantity divided by another of the same kind variable (n.) - a symbol for a number you don't know yet, it has no fixed value

Science Vocabulary

acceleration (n.) - the rate of change in the velocity of a moving body adapt (v.) - to make suitable by adjusting or changing attribute (n.) - quality or characteristic of a noun force (n.) - a factor that causes a body to change speed, direction, or shape hypothesis (n.) - a tentative explanation for an observation, phenomenon, or scientific problem manipulate (v.) - to influence, manage, direct, control, or tamper with something phase (n.) - distinct period in something's development prediction (n.) - a statement that something might happen or is expected to happen repetition (n.) - the act of doing or saying something over and over solubility (n.) - capability of being dissolved solution (n.) - homogeneous mixture of two or more substances speed (n.) - how quickly something is moving or being done velocity (n.) - quantity that specifies both the speed of a body and its direction of motion 6th Grade Vocabulary Cont.

Literature Vocabulary

characterization (n.) - the act of describing a character in a story or drama climax (n.) - moment of culminating intensity in a narrative, especially the conclusion of a crisis declare (v.) - make a statement or make information known drastic (adj.) - radical or extreme exposition (n.) - a piece of writing that is a detailed explanation using facts and ideas extend (v.) - to stretch out or draw out to a certain point lofty (adj.) - high in the air or overly grand narrate (v.) - to tell origin (n.) - the start or center of something or the place where a person comes from quote (v.) - repeat something written or spoken by someone else tentative (adj.) - not definite or final thesis (n.) - proposal or suggestion that is maintained by an argument unique (adj.) - having no like or equal

Social Studies Vocabulary appropriate (adj.) - right for the purpose archaeologist (n.) - a person who studies human history through discovery and exploration of remains, structures, and writings barbarian (n.) - a person who is savage and crude catastrophe (n.) - large, often sudden, disaster or ending chronological (adj.) - arranged in the order it happened civilization (n.) - society or group of people or the process of achieving a higher state of social development democracy (n.) - form of government in which the common people hold political power empire (n.) - political unit or territory under a unified or supreme authority history (n.) - all recorded events of the past nomad (n.) - any wanderer who has no fixed home subcontinent (n.) - a large land mass, smaller than a continent and regarded as a geographic or political entity unanimous (adj.) - all parties involved are fully in agreement violate (v.) - to fail to comply with a requirement or rule